I have a 1990 acura legend that has a large amount of problems. The first was it was not turn over. I think that could be batt related, not alot of water in it and excess cranking probally damaged it. issue 2 was a huge leak of coolant/water. Even though it leaks when it drives and has to be refilled when i tried to add more coolant to it that day i couldnt add anymore and i saw no leak at all.
