Create a graph of a runner's position versus time and watch the runner complete a 40-yard dash based on the graph you made. Notice the connection between the slope of the line and the speed of the runner. What will the runner do if the slope of the line is zero? What if the slope is negative? Add a second runner (a second graph) and connect real-world meaning to the intersection of two graphs.

Triadtron PCB In my last post, I described my being surprised by how well my high-Zo tube OTL headphone amplifier worked with low-impedance planar headphone, the last thing I expected. Why so? If no other reason, the output coupling capacitors seemed far too low in value. Yet, the bass was not thin. Well, I held a shootout between the tiny OTL and the best-bass-producing headphone driver I own ...
